STATEMENT OF: JANETH LOPEZ-QUEZADA

JL: Yes.

CS: Okay, Janeth, can you tell us in your own words what transpired this, uh, this morning?

JL: Uh, I just remember waking up to my boyfriend holding me, pushing me. Um, I heard gunshots. I remember that. I don't remember really hearing the cop, but I do remember my boyfriend holding me, holding my baby, and then, uh, I just remember the gunshots.

CS: Okay, so you just remember the gunshots. Did you hear any - any, uh, voices or anything?

JL: No, not before.

CS: Did you make out...

JL: No.

CS: ...hear during?

JL: Uh, after I think I do remember hearing the yelling and then the shooting but that's it.

CS: Did you hear anything - well - well you said yelling. Did - did you...

JL: No, nothing specific.

CS: Nothing distinctive?

JL: No.

CS: Okay, and you stayed in bed with your boyfriend and your baby?

JL: Yes.

CS: Okay, uh, now we're gonna be recovering projectiles that entered into your apartment, uh, as evidence. Uh, and do you have any questions in regards to that?

JL: No, I don't. I'm good.

CS: Okay, operator, this is, uh, same people present. Same t- the time is, uh, 9:46 and it, uh, concludes our interview.
